GSUings...Gordon Cochrane heard the good news this week that he passed the Illinois Bar Exam.

Dick Struthers elected to the Vice Chairmanship of the Illinois-Wisconsin region of the National Association of Educational Buyers at its meeting held at Monmouth College last week.

Allene Schnaitter invited by South Suburban Libraries to talk about GSU and the LRC, October 6, at the new Public Library in Blue Island.

GSU Faculty participating in the Annual Meeting of the National Association of Biology Teachers being held October 13-16 in Chicago include:

Tom Cleaver "Strategies for Environmental Studies," in a symposium on high school biology.

Jim Gallagher, Pete Fenner, Don Douglas, Bob Kloss and Bob Tumelty in a symposium in college biology on "A College Curriculum in Environmental Science."

Ted Andrews chaired a symposium in applied college biology and participated in another on "Organizing for the Future" presenting a paper on "Anticipated Directions in Science in a Newly Established University."

GSU PAPERBACK EXCHANGE...The LRC has a free paperback exchange rack located in the Commons. To get on the exchange cycle, leave a paperback book you want to share with others and pick up one someone else contributed.

WOODSIE ANYONE? A booklet on the Sauk Forest Preserve (as well as other booklets on other forest preserves) plus maps are available from the Forest Preserve District of Cook County, 536 N. Harlem, River Forest, Ill.

STUDENT DIALOGUE...Bill Engbretson holds the first of a series of student dialogues in the Commons on Wednesday at 3:30p.m. The informal sessions hope to deal with student questions, comments, suggestions and criticisms and facilitate open communications between the administration and the student body

MA BELL DAY...Wednesday and Friday are the days set for GSU Staff to learn about the mini-campus telephone system. Each staff member has been scheduled into a session (by separate memo) to learn the mysteries of the phone company's latest scheme to make the GSU telephone system work.

...MORE PHONE NOTES...the GSU switchboard will now switch calls which are unanswered to your unit secretary for messages...also the switchboard is being staffed until 11:00p.m. Messages will be taken for you at night unless you call extension 265 and tell the operator you are in the building at a particular extension.

PLEASE DON'T RING...If you call someone in the mini-campus and they don't answer in four rings or so, it's a good bet the phone won't be answered. Why not skip the last thirty rings and give the poor soul in the adjoining space a break.

THE WORKS

From the LRC: A machine just ordered to duplicate microfiche (cards similar to microfilm) so that students and staff may have personal copies of fiche they need...leaving LRC's Dick Newman to suggest that LRC find a machine for producing loaves so that it can advertise it can multiply loaves and fiches on demand.

Quote of the Week: A stable organization is by definition dead.

SOCIAL MODULE PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVE...The GSU staff member will manage to get to Burnham Oaks between 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. today (Friday, October 15), find the recreation room and meet at least five staff members known to be open, humane and experimental
